VIKING VINTR VUNDERLANDT FOUR

The Fourth Annual Viking Vintr Vunderlandt will be held in Dragonsspine on November 12th, A.S. XXIII. The sites will be the same as last year -- Black Forest El Paso County Park/Black Forest Community Church.

The day's events will be as in the past -- the BIG Game of three teams and a 'sheep', somewhat akin to other peaceful sports as rugby, soccer and a melee. The losing team wins custody of a wonderful (in the old sense) traveling trophy for a year. We will also have some kind of viking games as spear tossing, hammer throwing and other events of skill. DRESS WARMLY! Change to your party clothes at the indoor site.

As this year also commemorates the 10th Birthday of the Barony of Dragonsspine -- our first DECADE anniversary -- we are holding a DECADEnt revel. This is NOT a bawdy revel, but rather, a challenge to see just how decadent the vikings could really be. It is a time of silken garb, furs and brocades. What could the vikings come up with in the way of apparel after they brought their booty home? There will be a bardic where period and filk performances will be equally appreciated. Baroness Miranda will be featuring a competition of finger foods, where DECADEnce will also be considered -- such as marzipan stuffed dates -- a 'Pampered Hamper' munchies contest. We request that entries be treated tastefully -- this is NOT the infamous DECADENCE party, but a DECADEnt celebration of a 10th year as a barony.

There will be the usual luncheon sideboard of 'creative' Scandinavian dishes. The evening meal is a Fortune Kettle -- if you do not bring something to share, we'll all be HUNGRY. There will be a dessert sideboard from the Pampered Hamper competition. Please enter.

NOTE OF IMPORT! Site fee is $1.00 and the luncheon side board is $4.00 IF RESERVATIONS ARE RECEIVED BEFORE OCTOBER 20TH. This will increase to $6.00 between October 20th and November 5th. Anyone wanting to eat at the lunch sideboard, and who has not reserved by November 5th had better be on good terms with the Autocrat. Grovelling may not help. Due to the nature of the food and the preparation required, it will be difficult to accommodate on-the-site additional feasters because we will not buy supplies expecting a large turnout this year!

The following excerpts are off of a Computor Bulletin Board, called alt.sca, on News, supported by USENET, a public domain tcp/ip network sponsored by the Usenix association.

The topic for this month is Historical Reenactment groups in England.

From William de Corbie:
FODAS, (the Federation of Dark Ages Societies) is a national organization for the cooperation of various member groups. At present about 15 groups in Britain belong to FODAS, plus a couple in Denmark and West Germany. I only know the names of two of the groups:
1. The English Companions - An Angol Saxon group mostly devoted to the arts and sciences. They have a very nice newsletter which is often done almost entirely in calligraphy! They are very interested in the Old English language, plalcenames, arcaeology etc, but as far as I know, they have no fighting, and not everybody wears garb.
2. Reglia Anglorum. This is an Anglo-Saxon re-enactment group who fight with steel weapons (demos only) and air at 100% authenticity in costuming, etc.

The biggest dark-ages group in Britain used the be the Norse Film and Pageant Society, which was founded in 1971. They have a litle over 200 members. This group does not belong to FODAS. They fight with blunt steel weapons, but the fighting is mostly for show, blows are pulled short, and most of the training seems to aim at how to make fights look realistic without actually hitting. They refuse to perform their shows with other groups, becouse the fighters of other groups are considered unsafe.

There are also several viking groups the Total number of active vikings and saxons in Britain has been estimated at 1000, wherof half are fighters.

On the medieval side, there are also something like 1000 peole active in various groups (four of which listed below) They have no national federation like FODAS, so it is more difficult to get a grip on what groups exist. It is also difficult to tell the difference between public groups where anybody can join for fun, and more exclusive groups, where you have to be mounted, or professional jousting and show companies.
1. Plantagenet Society. Re-enactment of the High Middle Ages.
2. Richard III Society. A more literary group, devoted to the glory (and innocence) of that infamous king.
3. The Knights Templar. Crusaders, devoted to charity, chivalry, courtesy and everything to do with the Crusades and the Orders Militant.
4. The Sun in Splendour. A group devoted to the late 1400's.

There is also a group called "The Barony of the Far Isles" who started out as an SCA branch, but broke off the the Society because of some long ago controversy. They still fight SCA style, and those SCAdians who have visited their events have been inpressed by the standard of costume and behavior. Obviously, most British groups are very much into authenticity.

FIGHTER PRACTICE

Caer Galen Fighter Practices, which are normally held on Thursday nights, are being suspended until we can find an indoor site. The site we rented last winter is not available now, and we have not been able to locate a site that we can afford. As soon as we can find a site, we will resume fighter practice. The Caer Galen Knight Marshall, Lord Ian will let everyone know as soon as a site is found. To get on his list of people to contact, call him and leave your name with him, or his answering machine.

FIGHTER PRACTICE FUNDRAISER TO PAY FOR WINTER SITE

Elizabeth Freemountain is moving, and has offered to donate $5.00 per person hour worked helping her move to the Shire for Winter fighter practice site costs. She will probably be moving the weekend of December 3rd/4th. She might also pay for packing and moving at other times. For info contact Elizabeth, 499-8807.

DANCE PRACTICE

As far as I know, the Caerthan/Caer Galen Dance Guild will not meet in November. If you are interested in attending winter dance practice, please contact one of the following.
